The Dimmer VIEW

By MAX GOODWIN

Everyone is concerned about reports of various shaped objects flying through the air and so are we. We can't answer the question "are they space ships from the outer universe, or are they Russian, or are they ours?" For all I know these things are imaginary, but here is the nucleus of what may turn into truly mass hysteria. A basis of logic for hysteria does exist for all our knowledge of satellites has come from our enemy, Russia.

It has become so worrisome a problem that the President is taking to the airways this week to allay the fears of the multitudes.

All this, I feel is a sad commentary on secrecy our government invokes, even on matters not related to national defense. Government has a terrific job to do in rebuilding the confidence it has torn down by keeping secret from us many of the developments already known to the rest of the world.

Came two communication this week in testimony of the forgetfulness of the human race. One was a Christmas card, and I need not tell you it was out first of the season. This card sender did not chance waiting and perhaps forgetting to mail it. The other was a reminder that I was invited to attend the annual Appreciation Dinner at the El Cortez hotel given each year for administrators and coaches of San Diego County. The date? January 23, 1958.

You can take your bath this Saturday in comparative comfort. (Continued on Page 6)

TOWN COUNCIL WORKS WELL IN LA JOLLA SAY BOARD MEMBERS

The Lemon Grove Men's Club heard three members of the La Jolla Town Council tell of advantages of organization. "The fact we have an independent name and our own post office is good evidence that organization works," they said.

Speakers were H. Bailey Gallison, executive manager, Arthur

Pierce, president, and Erskine Sanderson, chairman of the board all of the La Jolla Town Council, Inc. La Jolla is in the City of San Diego but operates independently within the limits of the Town Council.

"We were once known as Heinz 57 varieties," Sanderson said. "There were about that many groups attempting to get something done. As soon as one group proposed something another group would arise and oppose it. Now, every proposal must have the Council blessing. The Council screens the propositions very thoroughly and few of the council's recommendations are turned down by the San Diego City Council," he said.

Gallison showed great enthusiasm for Council type government. "If you cannot have home rule, this is the next best thing," he said.

Pierce acted as moderator and explain the history and workings of the Council. He said the Council had 1,500 residential memberships and 500 business type. The Board consists of 36 members and all of them are working members he said. The Council has committees which performs the functions of the chamber of commerce, of a merchant's group, of a zoning commission and other civic funtionaries, it was disclosed. ## United Fund Lags Locally, Needs Workers

United Fund Geographic (house-to-house) campaigns got off to a poor start in the Lemon Grove area Monday morning as they launched the one big drive for one big gift.

In the first day of the residential drive, campaigners here reported 5 percent of the $2,303 quota, Mrs. Frank Armstrong, area chairman said.

The geographic drive, which includes the campaign of business firms where four or less persons are employed, was begun immediately following meetings in the zone chairmen's homes that were concluded with a two-station telecast signaling the kickoff. Sadly lacking are enough workers to cover the area.

Meanwhile, Rabbi Morton J. Cohn, chairman of the United Fund's first year drive, reported Tuesday that 23.8 percent of the countywide $4,250,000 objective has been reached. It was the first complete division report issued by the campaign leader.

DUTCH TREAT — Mrs. Helen Pletts, Ted E. Van de Kamp and W. Earl Smart gather at the Lemon Grove Lemon as executives of Van de Kamp's Holland Dutch Bakers visit here with an eye to opening a retail bakery outlet. Mrs. Pletts symbolizes the motif of the firm, Van de Kamp is vice president of the bakers and Smart is president of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce.

Lemon Grove was visited this week by a group of executives of Van de Kamp's Holland Dutch Bakers, the company famous for its whirling blue windmills and attractively - costumed "Dutch girls."

Ted E. Van de Kamp, vice president, said, "We expect to open between 8 and 12 of our self-service bakery units in San Diego County supermarkets during the first two weeks in January. We are definitely interested in the Lemon Grove area and hope that this can be one of our early locations." Van de Kamp was accompanied on his scouting tour by Ross Bartlett, assistant in charge of leases and locations; John Piper, assistant sales manager, and Mrs. Helen Pletts, store manager for the company in Laguna Beach.

Van de Kamp's will offer the shoppers of San Diego County an assortment of more than 160 varieties of baked goods, all baked and delivered fresh daily. For the timebeing, Van de Kamp said, trucks will rumble down from the plant in Los Angeles during the early morning hours. Each driver will have two obligations — to leave the day's fresh merchandise and pick up everything unsold from the previous day. As soon as it is economically feasible the Van de Kamp people hope it will be possible to establish a plant in the San Diego County.

"We are moving into the San Diego area at the invitation of many local supermarkets," Van de Kamp explained. "For many months we have conducted intensive research into the growth potential of the county and we are convinced it is one of the fastest growing areas in the country. We will staff our units entirely with local residents of the communities in which we open our retail units."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

The Administration and Board of Trustees of the Grossmont Union High School wishes to express to you, our sincere appreciation for the news coverage and support which you gave the recent bond election.

While the vote was light, we feel that the press did its best to inform the voters of the need for more facilities and the financial aspects of financing the building program.

We believe you have contributed in a large measure to the provision of a better educational opportunity for the youth of our community.

Yours very truly,
Clarence H. Foster, Pres.

GROVE MARINE ON OKINAWA

OKINAWA—Marine Pfc. Lawrence T. Priest, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Priest of 1715 Englewood dr., Lemon Grove, Calif. participated in an assault landing exercise on Okinawa, Oct. 21. #### School Board To Study Mercury Drive Improvement

Consideration of improvement of Mercury Dr. East of San Miguel School is listed on the Lemon Grove School Board agenda for Tuesday evening, Nov. 12. The improvement was requested last spring by residents of that area, but the board took the subject under consideration and ordered further study of the project since no funds were available at that time. Presentation of the case will be made by local residents and P. T. A. leaders. The street runs dead-end into a three foot embankment at right angles to a subdivision street which forms the embankment. Other items of business, aside from routine matters of all regular section week meetings, include a progress report on the San Altos School project, travel allowance for the CTA New Teachers Conference later this month, and further consideration of leasing unused school property for the county for Little League use.

CARS WASHED.

Haverhill, Mass.—Local police cruisers needed washing and so, after the city council approved the order for having the cars washed, the council relayed the order to the city manager, the city manager relayed it to Police Chief William J. Collins and Collins passed it on to a police department mechanic. With no one to pass the order on to, the mechanic washed the cars.

question recently. A clerk weighed a letter for a woman patron and handed it back to her with the comment it was too heavy and would need another stamp. "Well," shrugged the woman, "how will putting another stamp on it make it lighter?"

Spartans Crush Matadors 28-6

By Bruce Chassy
The boys from Sparta yelled
"come and get it" and Miguel came. Then they dished themselves up a victory leaving Mount Miguel to go hungry.
Mount Miguel may only start nine men next week because Fred Washburn of Chula Vista ran the ends off them last Friday night.
Washburn scored the first, second and third quarters on runs of seven, nine, and twenty-nine yards.

Dave Williams booted four extra points in a spectacular fashion. Joe Loeshing was responsible for the Spartans fourth quarter score on a eleven yard end run.
Mount Miguel's lone 6 pointer
came when Bob Lucas, an end, ran twenty-two yards to paydirt
on a tricky end around. Rock Barsotti's extra point run failed.

A.E. Week To Be Marked at Helix This Week

"You Take the High Road and I'll Take the Low Road and We'll Meet You in the Classroom."
That's what Helix Highlander parents will be singing tonight (November 7) at the Open House
in honor of American Education Week.

The Helix P.T.A. is co-sponsoring the event, and will start the evening with an assembly in the Helix cafeteria at 7:15 P. M.
Promptly at 7:40, parents will proceed to their son's or daughter's first class. The parents will then follow the exact routine
their youngster takes each day, except that the classes will be shorter and there will be no homework tonight!

Group Drop Interest in Lake-Park Project

The Helix Irrigation District
Board of Directors were informed Tuesday that V. J. Dorman, attorney for a group of residents living around Helix Lake is no longer interested in forming a Community Services District to maintain the Helix Lake property
as a public park.

J. R. Bryant, and Dr. Erling Karlsgodt, two residents of the Helix Lake area, told the Board that they are dropping their plans for the area's development in favor of the City of La Mesa plans—although the group will submit a recommendation regarding development of the property to the City Council.

The Irrigation District has indicated that it will make the Helix property available for lease as a public park, but its use may not be restricted to a particular area or group.

The Board also said that no increase in water rates was seen for the immediate future. An automatic $3 an acre foot increase will be charged the District in July but the Board said they planned to consider that increase then.

Dimmer View

fort of knowing the cost of water
is not going up for the present.
Rumbles of a water hike came last week when the Helix Water Works board heard a financial statement read which showed a dramatic drop in water revenue caused by conservation and rain.

I checked the possibility of a rate raise with the HID folk and they assured me that a raise is not contemplated or planned at present. In July the district's cost of water will go up but that has not come up for consideration by the board yet.

I've got three pretty good reasons for being ready to editorially oppose a rate hike at this time.
First, as a newspaper had been led into supporting a water conservation program because we thought it justified. A rate increase resulting from conservation would have been a breach of civic faith.

Second, if seasonal fluctuations should be the bait on which HID should hook a rate raise then they had best look to their own administrative practices. Predicated on such a premise, a raise based on seasonal fluctuation would indicate to me there are too many burns on the water works payroll.

Third, and finally, HID could do what we have argued for years. Raise the rate of the big user. It's a silly fact that HID 6,000 cubic foot-a-month users get the lowest water rates in the county, 9 cents for 100 cubic feet
is all they pay.
All of this aside from the point
however because HID spokesmen have since taken the trouble to announce that the report of an increase is erroneous.

harbor boat when they hit. When the craft struck the rock Henry radio'd for help. But he received no answer. It was learned later, however, that the call was received by the Coast Guard Auxiliary and a fisherman's wife, who has a two-way radio for talking with her husband when he's at sea. She relayed her message to the Coast Guard.

Haag said he was in a bunk when the craft hit the rock. He said water started pouring in at a fast rate. He and the two other men started pumping out the water but to no avail.

By the time Henry had finished calling on the radio, the helicopter had arrived. The rescued men were taken to the Bachelor Officer's Quarters, dried and given coffee. They had nothing but praise for the Coast Guard and its splendid work. A spokesman for the Coast Guard said the rescued men were fortunate to be picked up so soon, as the probability of being rescued when afloat at sea is about 2 percent.

The rescued men called their wives from the CG Station about 7:30 p. m. That was the first time the very surprised wives knew of the incident.

Henry said Monday that he had gone back to the scene of the sinking the day after, but could find no trace of the boat, that it had probably broken up and washed away. He valued the craft at about $2500.

BLUE AND GOLD BAND GETS LONG BEACH BID

Grossmont High School Blue and Gold Band has been selected as the first non-competing honor band in the Long Beach All-Western Band Review.

All bands henceforth who win the Sweepstakes Award for the third time and retire the trophy, will automatically be honored in the following year by being named at the non-competing guest band. It will be further honored by being selected as the lead band in the line of march.

This announcement was made by Anthony F. Gill, director of the review, in a letter to Arthur E. Schwuchow, Grossmont band director.

SPOOKY — Here are the prize winners at last week's annual Halloween party given by the Lemon Grove Lions Club at Michael's. As if you didn't recognize them at sight, they are: Susie Holaday, 7504 Broadway, best Halloween individual; Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Wood, 7686 Church Street, (twin ghosts), best Halloween couple; Tom Walton, 3190 Crane Street (sheriff), cleverest individual outfit, and Dr. and Mrs. Don G. Johnson, 2966 Buena Vista (bull), cleverest couple's outfit.

It is interesting to note that Tom Walton, one of the winners, was also master of ceremonies which he said had no bearing on the judging. A judge, Max Goodwin, who is a Kiwanian, is at the right in a surgeon's smock. —Tappy Foto

John Thill 'Cuts The Mustard' In Golden ASB Election

The air was full of campaign promises and the halls full of posters this week as Golden Avenue students prepared for election of Student Body officers.

Posters used catchy phrases and displayed expert, near-professional printing; and campaign speeches indicated budding political aptitudes. One platform speech started with a long involved joke, told with all the aplomb of a campaigner of many years and ended with a punch line only a sentence or two long setting forth the candidate's platform.

After a rousing campaign assembly students came by classes to the front hall where Polls had set up as near to adult standards as possible.

In one aspect, students bettered the good adult citizens of the School District. A survey showed that roughly one-third the parents in each class voted last election, but every eligible voter in Golden Avenue Student Body exercised his voting privilege.

Area Man Named Chaplain of Goodwill

The Rev. E. J. Mills, one time general secretary of the insurance division of the Wesleyan Methodist church of the USA, has just been appointed as the new chaplain of the Goodwill Industries of San Diego county with his office at Fifth and J streets in the local headquarters, it was announced by Dr. Myron Insko, executive director.

In his new post, Rev. Mills will be the spiritual advisor of the 200 handicapped employees of the Goodwill Industries, who rehabilitate donated, discarded articles into salable goods at the various stores, located here, in National City, Lemon Grove, El Cajon, Escondido and Oceanside.

Following his graduation from theological college in 1921, the Rev. Mills was pastor of the Boston Wesleyan Methodist Church from 1923-33. He served as president of the California annual conference of the Wesleyan Methodist Church in 1931-32. Later he had pastorates in South Carolina, Indiana, and for eight years headed the insurance division of his church nationally with headquarters at Marion, Indiana, from 1948-56. The Rev. and Mrs. Mills live at 4144 Massachusetts St. near Lemon Grove.

KIWANIANNES TO NAME 1958 OFFICERS

Lemon Grove Kiwanians are tending the group's regular monthly meeting Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. Jerry Walter, enjoyed a unique "home talent" program. Arranged by Mrs. Frank Armstrong, vice-president and program chairman, the program featured the following members as participants: Mrs. J. B. Yeo, who displayed specimens from her extensive collection of vases representing many lands and periods; Mrs. Jack Durham, who modeled a lovely party frock that was made and fitted by herself; Mrs. Robert Swenson, who also modeled her own creation—a lacy, hand knit evening gown that members had seen in process during several Kiwanian meetings; and Mrs. Frank Armstrong, who exhibited considerable prowess on the accordion.

The program followed a brief business meeting, with the president, Mrs. Max Goodwin, presiding. Mrs. Goodwin also served as co-hostess.

Arrangements were made for the December meeting which, following the group's tradition, will be held in the home of the Byron Netzleys, 2324 Golden Avenue. The date will be December 9; the regular first-Monday-of-the-month meeting date having been agreed to be too early for a Christmas party. The time, 7:30, was recently voted to replace the previous 8 p. m. starting hour. Election of 1958 officers will take place at this meeting; installations in January. The customary "white elephant" exchange will provide the entertainment. Mrs. John Dail and Mrs. J. B. Yeo will assist Mrs. Netzley as co-hostess.

The nominating committee appointed by the president, Mrs. Goodwin, is made up of: Mrs. J. B. Yeo, Mrs. S. C. Brumbaugh, Jr., both past-presidents; and Mrs. John Landesco.

Hospital Auxiliary Board Meet Set

Mrs. Jens Hutchens, president, Grossmont Hospital Women's Auxiliary, has announced the next regular monthly meeting of place on Friday, at 9:30 a. m. in the doctors' lounge of Grossmont Hospital. All Board members—including auxiliary officers, chairmen and co-chairmen of areas and standing committees—are being urged to attend. Other members will be welcome.

According to Mrs. Hutchens, the agenda will be a full one. Among the important matters to be presented are reports of the October 8 Harvest Ball—to be made by the ball's chairmen, Mrs. C. Rupert Linley; and the Oc-
